Daytona the Garden Spot.

W. C. and Ira D. Smith, winter visitors of Seabreeze, returned Sunday from an extended tour of the East coast, Cuba and the West coast. The brothers left here three weeks ago and stopped at various places en route from one to three days, looking for a paying investment, speaking of the tour yesterday. W. C. Smith said:

"This is our first visit to Florida. We came down looking for a paying investment for a little surplus cash. We visited several places on the East coast and travelled the inside route to Key West. From there we went to Cuba, visiting Havana, Matanzas and Batabanua. That is a fine country and promises, when developed, to become an excellent field for the capitalist.

We came back by way of Tampa and visited various places on the West coast and in the interior of the state. We saw many pretty places, but none which can be compared to Daytona and its vicinity. It is more than likely that we will locate and invest here. The town has an excellent future. All you need is capital, push and energy, the local conditions are favorable. The place has not been advertised, except the kind you got from the auto races. You need something more than that. Advertise your inducements and let the people know what kind of streets and houses you have. Every stranger who comes here expresses surprise at the model dwellings, etc., showing that they were not properly informed."

Fishing Party at Ponce Park.

Messrs. J. H. Clark, Smith, Hunt, Robert Clark and Jerry Hunt, of Cleveland, and Benford Deason, of this place, went down the river yesterday on a fishing trip in Elmer Marsh's launch Gleam. The party took dinner at the Ponce Park Hotel and returned with 32 fine sheephead as a result of their day's outing.

Strawberries are getting quite plentiful and also cheap enough so that all can enjoy them.

New Engines

Five new and modern locomotives, made by the Schenck Locomotive Works, are now ordered by the Florida East Coast railroad. These engines will be used for hauling freight between Jacksonville and Miami.

With these new engines this road will be better equipped than ever. From time to time the company has increased its rolling stock until it has fifty locomotives and several hundreds of both passenger and freight cars.

Florida Battle Flags.

The government will return to this State the following Confederate battle flags captured in battle.

Flag of second Florida. No record.

Flag of Sixth Florida. Captured by Private Otis Smith Ninety-fifth Ohio, at Brentwood Hills, near Nashville, Dec. 1864.

Flag of Eighth Florida. Captured by Serg. Thomas Horan Seventy-second New York.

Flag of Eleventh Florida. Captured at Sailor's Creek, April 6, 1865, by Serg. Clapp, Second Ohio Cavalry's command.

Flag of Fifteenth Florida. Captured at Sailor's Creek, by Lieut. A. T. Landford, First Connecticut.

Flag of Eighteenth Florida. Captured at Sailor's Creek, by Private Daniel Woods, Company K, First Virginia Volunteer Cavalry, Casser's command.

Flag of Apaches in U. S. Guards.

Charles C. Hillier, Cooperstown, Pa.; T. C. Campbell and wife, Frances C. Campbell, Miss Winnetta Campbell, Bainbridge, O.; Arthur C. Libby and wife, Portland, Me., are guests of The Cleveland.

J. C. Spangler, Chicago; J. C. Hoxie and wife, Utica, N. Y.; Mrs. Geo. A. Raymond, Mrs. H. A. Kenney, Troy, N. Y.; J. H. Short and wife, Portland, Me.; C. E. Budd and wife, Theodore Budd, Miss Ethel C. Budd, Pemberton, N. J., are guests of The Palmetto.

HALIFAX RIFLES INSPECTED

Monday Night by Adjutant-General Foster and Colonel Norvell. A Fine Showing Made.

The inspection of the Halifax Rifles, Company K, Second Regiment, took place Monday evening and the Company feels satisfied that it will obtain a favorable report.

The inspection was conducted by the Adjutant-General of Florida, J. Clifford R. Foster, who was accompanied by Col. S. T. Norvell, United States Army, retired, who is assigned to duty with the Florida troops. Lieut. Col. C. M. Bingham, Adjutant Charles L. Smith, Quartermaster T. Edward Fitzgerald and Sergeant-Major A. H. Schmidt were also present. Major John B. Parkinson was absent on account of sickness. Thirty-seven enlisted men, about 55 per cent of the command, responded to roll call. The company was commanded by First Lieutenant Fred Caldwell.

An inspection of the arms and accoutrements showed that the men were neat and that the guns were in excellent condition. In the manual of arms the men did very well when it is taken into consideration that at this the busiest season of the year here, it is impossible to have regular drills. A few of the men were rather tardy or awkward, but on the whole the work was creditable.

In the evolutions of the company, especially when moving in company front or breaking into fours, the movements were generally executed with a fair amount of precision and unison.

Col. Norvell was asked after the inspection was over what the nature of his report would be. The Colonel smiled and said:

"My reports are made direct to the War Department, and, if made public, will be given out from Washington. I cannot, nor do I ever, make public the nature of my report. So far Key West has had the largest company inspected."

Heston's orchestra furnished music, and those who cared to indulge in dancing until about 11 o'clock.

The company will meet next Tuesday night for the purpose of electing a commanding officer. Adjutant Chas. L. Smith, who has a long and meritorious record with the Rifles, will in all probability be elected to hold this important office. If elected the company will undoubtedly be improved and brought to a higher standard.

CHRISTIE MAKING GOOD TIME

Daily on the Beach. Remarkably Regular Speeds Were Made Yesterday and Sunday.

Ford has not yet arrived, nor can it be learned positively whether or not he will come at all before next January. It was thought and hoped that he would be here while Mr. Christie was racing, in which case several imprudent races would have been witnessed.

In the runs made Sunday by Mr. Christie the times were taken by the McMurtry electric timer, the same instrument which was used during the races here in January. Twelve runs of one mile each were speeded, the slowest time being 41 seconds and the fastest 38.45 seconds, a remarkable regularity of speed.

As stated in a previous issue, the remodeled racer differs only in an increased horsepower, the piston stroke has been increased one-half inch and a high tension magneto is used instead of the jump spark. The small front wheels are used, thirty inches in diameter.

Mr. Christie has with him discs for the wheels and a sharp plow for the front of the racer, but has not yet used them. They may be tried later to see if an increase in speed can be attained.

When asked if it was his intention to erect a factory for the manufacturing of touring cars patterned after his racer, Mr. Christie replied:

"No; why it would take a million of dollars to start in that business. I have my own machine shop, a well equipped one too, and there I propose to build racers. Next year I will be here with two machines. One will be a front drive, just like the one you see here, but of higher horse power, nearly double, in fact. The other will be a front and rear drive, sharp at both ends, and will come within the prescribed weight. With the latter I expect to lower the record to 30 seconds."

Walter's Prayer.

Walter and Willie were playmates. The death one day of Willie's grandmother made a deep impression upon Walter. He, too, had a grandmother, whom he dearly loved. At bedtime that night Walter's papa was not a little startled to hear his little boy supplement his evening petition with: "I thank you, God, that you took Willie's grandmother instead of mine."—Lippincott's Magazine.

A Foreboding.

"Have you ever done anything that will make future generations proud of you?" "I don't know," answered Mr. Dustin Stax. "I suppose my grandchildren will wish they could enjoy my wealth without being reminded of how I made it."—Washington Star.

That Would Help.

The infant began crying as soon as the visitor arrived and continued to wail for some time. At last its mamma said: "Please don't mind the baby." "If you would mind it," suggested the guest, "maybe I wouldn't mind it."—Judge.

One Man's Theory.

Wife—I don't know what makes Miss Crankleigh so positive about everything. Husband—Probably her sex, my dear. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Women are said to make excellent postmasters. Kind of know how to look after the males, as it were.—New York Mail.

A Transformation.

An American man-of-war's man, ashore at Gravesend, near London, awoke the other morning to find himself attired in the uniform of a British soldier. No sooner had he wandered out into the street than a picket stopped him and told him to button up his tunic or he would be taken to barracks. He sought refuge in a police station, where it was discovered that a deserter had changed clothes with him while he slept.

His Own Voice at His Burial.

Herr Paul Turon of Teschen, in Austrian Silesia, sang a hymn at his own burial the other day. He had intoned the hymn into a phonograph shortly before his death and directed that it should be reproduced at his funeral service. This was carried out by his heirs, who under the terms of Herr Turon's will had to sacrifice $500 of his estate to a charity if they failed to comply with his wish.

Fifteen Million Candlepower.

St. Catherine's lighthouse, Isle of Wight, has just been fitted with a flashlight which is estimated to be equal to 15,000,000 candlepower, and on nights when the atmosphere is favorable its beam probably is visible from the French coast. The new light is immensely more powerful than the old one, which was of about 3,000,000 candlepower. —London Globe.

A Narcotic.

Teacher—Give me a familiar instance of a narcotic. (Pupil hesitates.) Teacher—What does your father smoke in his pipe? Pupil—Mother says it smells like hayseed, but I guess it's leather.

Mrs. A. W. Sprague is very ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. D. Langworthy, in Seabreeze. Mrs. Robt. W. Taylor, of Cleveland, arrived yesterday to attend her mother, Mrs. Sprague.

Charged With Poisoning

Eddie Cole, colored, was taken to hospital yesterday, charged with trying to poison his wife, Ella Cole, the war.

Before Judge Wallace, the wife charged the husband with having charged rough on her or some poison in the pump from which she obtains drinking water. From statements said to have been made by her it is the old, old story of another woman in the case. The husband probably tried of the nagging attempted to get rid of the wife and obtain another.

The penalty for this crime is severe and if proven Cole will not visit home for a long year.

Fine Launch in Port.

The gorgeous launch Ennis arrived in port yesterday with the owner, Lester Hutton of Kingston, N. Y., and Edie K. Hutton aboard.
The launch is commanded by Edie Hutton.

C. R. Cline, of Greenport, R. I., bought the Ennis for $25,000 recently and came down on her last fall by the inside route to Palm Beach, where he sold the boat to Mr.
Hutton, who, after cruising in the waters of the East Coast, is now homebound.

The Ennis is 18 feet in length, 12 foot beam and 31 feet draft. Her interior is handsomely finished and she appears to be an exceedingly well built vessel.

JAPAN'S SPY SYSTEM.

Spies were at work at Petersburg

A good deal has been heard from the time the Manchurian war. The Japanese played their spy system both in Manchuria and Russia before the war. The success of the following story is guaranteed by the Manchurian. The end of the Manchurian from Kichin arrived in St. Petersburg and opened a new chapter in the spy system. The story of this and other events in the Russian capital, but all the same the Japanese prospered in view of the big business he anticipated at the Easter festivities during the following spring the two men had not yet five of his fellow countrymen as assistants. These were all extremely agreeable, intelligent, well-known, also quickly assimilated into the society with the aristocratic clientele of the club.

But despite the prosperity of their business the Japanese did not seem happy. Their relations were not and at last they confessed their secret.
They did not in the least mind leaving Japan; they were delighted with it.
What they did not like was to remain foreigners in the heart of their adopted country. Their deepest wish they said, was to become Russian and to be admitted into the Orthodox church.

The idea appealed to the aristocratic element of the two shops, and it was come they were admitted into the Orthodox church and made Russian citizens.

Shortly after this the five new Russians wanted to get married and found that their wives were not. They interested themselves in their behalf.
Brides were found in the shape of pretty young Russian women, dowry trunks provided by subscription and the marriage ceremony duly performed.
Time went on, children were born, and everything in the various manages seemed to be most satisfactory when suddenly the war broke out. Two days later the Russian Japanese had lost all disappeared, leaving their wives and families behind them in St. Petersburg. St. Petersburg society was battered. The confessions it had unfortunately acquired in the new movement to Tokyo in the form of private reports to the Japanese general staff while the houses of the society, city clubs or institutions in the Japanese were back to back with the regiments.—London News.

Pierre Loti's Oddities.

Pierre Loti, whose adaptation of "The Last Days of Pompeii" is the latest novelty in Paris, is nothing if not versatile. Naval officer, novelist and academician, he is a man of many roles.
Ordinarily he is the most unapproachable of men, speaks little, shies society and generally plays the hermit.
After a long interval, once every ten years or so he suddenly assumes a grand role, and the residence of the recluse is invaded by hundreds of flocks. One of his most famous entertainments was that which he gave last year, when a wonderful Chinese embassy which he had built was inaugurated by a grand party, which all the celebrities were requested to attend in Chinese costume. All the servants, host and hostess wore Japanese attire in Chinese dress. Afterward followed another, at which Chinese fine, swallows and other Chinese delicacies were served.

Big Holes in Ireland.

Compared with some of the big holes which have taken place in Ireland the recent disaster in County Roscommon may be regarded as trifling importance. In 1708 a slip of a mile long and a quarter of a mile broad occurred at Castleguard and buried three houses containing twenty-one persons.
A similar disaster took place at Alder-gate, in 1749, thirty-five years later. Fresh to the public mind is the big slide of eight years ago. Between 2 and 3 o'clock one block of earth fell from the edge of the Knocknagloga bog, over the edge of the Knocknagloga bog, Kilmarney, gave way and liberated a vast flood of peat and water. The flood rushed along with startling rapidity except away the stone built house of Corteen, Ireland. Lord Kilmarnock, quarry steward, and Dunne, his wife and six children perished.—Western Star-Gazette.

There are some funny stories that ought to have the usual label in order to be recognized.

JAPAN'S SPY SYSTEM.

Queer Story of Some St. Petersburg Ten Merchants.

A good deal has been heard from time to time of the extent to which the Japanese pushed their spy system, both in Manchuria and Russia, before the war. The accuracy of the following story is guaranteed by the Matin.

Toward the end of 1898 a Japanese from Kinsu arrived in St. Petersburg and opened a tea warehouse on the Nevsky prospect. Shops of this kind simply swarm in the Russian capital, but all the same the Japanese prospered exceedingly.

In view of the big business he anticipated at the Easter festivities during the following spring the tea merchant got over five of his fellow countrymen as assistants. These were all extremely agreeable, tactful young fellows, who quickly ingratiated themselves with the aristocratic clientele of the shop.

But despite the prosperity of their business the Japanese did not seem happy. Their melancholy was noticed,
and at last they confessed their secret.
They did not in the least mind leaving Japan; they were delighted with Russia. What they did not like was to remain foreigners on the soil of their adopted country. Their dearest wish, they said, was to become naturalized Russians and to be admitted into the Orthodox church.

The idea appealed to the aristocratic customers of the tea shop, and in due course they were admitted into the Orthodox church and made Russian citizens.

Shortly after this the five new Russians wanted to get married and found families. Once more their customers interested themselves in their behalf.
Brides were found in the shape of pretty young Russian work girls, dowries provided by subscription and the marriage ceremony duly performed.
Time went on, children were born, and everything in the various menages seemed to be most satisfactory when suddenly the war broke out. Two days later the Russian-Japanese tea men had all disappeared, leaving their wives and families behind them in St. Petersburg. St. Petersburg society was flabbergasted. The confidences it had unfortunately imparted to the tea men went to Tokyo in the form of private reports to the Japanese general staff, while the heroes of the story, all captains or lieutenants in the Japanese army, went back to their respective regiments.—London News.

Pierre Loti's Oddities.

Pierre Loti, whose adaptation of "King Lear" is the latest dramatic novelty in Paris, is nothing if not versatile. Naval officer, novelist and academician, he is a man of many roles.
Ordinarily he is the most unapproachable of men, speaks little, shuns society and generally plays the hermit.
Then, after a long interval, once every ten years or so he suddenly announces a grand fete, and the residence of the recluse is invaded by hundreds of visitors. One of his most famous entertainments was that which he gave last year, when a wonderful Chinese pagoda which he had built was inaugurated by a grand party, which all the guests were requested to attend in Chinese costume. All the servants, host and hostess were likewise garbed in Chinese dress. Afterward followed supper, at which sharks' fins, swallows' nests and other Chinese delicacies were consumed.

Bog Slides in Ireland.

Compared with some of the bog slides which have taken place in Ireland the recent disaster in County Roscommon may be regarded as of trifling importance. In 1708 a slip of a mile long and a quarter of a mile broad occurred at Castlegarde and buried three houses containing twenty-one persons.
A similar disaster took place at Addegoole, in Galway, thirty-five years later. Fresh in the public memory is the bog slide of eight years ago. Between 2 and 3 o'clock one bleak December morning the edge of the Knocknagoe bog, overlooking the Ownacree valley, near Killarney, gave way and liberated a vast flood of peat and water. The flood rushed along with startling rapidity, swept away the stone built house of Cornelius Donnelly, Lord Kenmare's quarry steward, and Donnelly, his wife and six children perished.—Westminster Gazette.

There are some funny stories that ought to have the union label in order to be recognized.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its widest expanse and midway between the source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29° 30' north and longitude 81° 05' west, seventy-four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high land, a level that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of today. Its beautiful cottages and well-kept walks and streets. The result of this is that the wide avenues that intersect the town are lovely live and water oaks and hickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palmettos, glossy leaved magnolias, fragrant bays and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the amplexoid climber and clinging among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions.

The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are at the feet wide, except beach street which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health-giving breezes from off the wide Atlantic, which render and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well-graded, macadamized and shell roads and streets, rendering it the

Wheelman's Paradise
Added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages
That have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, tree-avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those securing homes in the South, and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, good public and private schools, stores, hotels, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric lights for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, Lily Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

which is derived from numerous flowing wells, of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and this depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesium and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona proper is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

Daytona Beach

Lies one mile east of the town. It is approached by three good bridges over the river and well-graded avenues, and is the principal summer resort south of St. Augustine. It has more tourists during the summer than all other places south of that city combined, and is also becoming a favorite winter resort. The beach is wide, firm and smooth, by many considered the finest in the world, and the surf bathing is safe and excellent summer and winter. People who have tried Northern and Western summer resorts declare that there are none so perfect in comfort as Daytona beach.

Automobile Race Meet.

The Florida East Coast Automobile Association conducts an annual race meet on the beach, which has now a universal reputation as the greatest automobile race course in the world. The Daytona-Ormond Beach is hard as macadam, and an ideal stretch of thirty or more miles without a break makes it the natural racing ground for America.

At low tide the beach is bare for 300 feet and neither carriage wheel, bicycle or pedestrian can make a hardly visible imprint on the smooth and well-packed sand. It is no uncommon sight to see sail-rigged boats speeding with the velocity of the wind before a stiff breeze along the smooth beach, thus affording the most exhilarating sport known to man. Besides these, miles of hard-shelled, palm-tinged boulders bring the lovers of the wheel and vehicles into direct contact with the mainland over the road bridges which span the splendid Halifax River.

The beach from the sandy bluffs to the lowest point at oblique, measures about 500 feet, and the average depth of the surf measures about two feet. A continuous gentle swell rolls in from the ocean from one to two feet in depth under normal conditions, making the beach an attractive and absolutely safe place for surf-bathing. Here the infant as well as the grey-haired veteran of many summers, can safely enjoy the luxury of a sea bath throughout the larger part of the year while the strong and expert swimmer can venture out further to test his strength and skill in battling with the inexhaustible powers of the mighty ocean.

The Peninsula

lying between river and ocean is one-half mile wide, and is being rapidly improved, and there are many fine cottages and several good hotels, a pavilion house, two ocean piers, beach pavilion and a large casino.

A Remarkable Feature

at Daytona has been the yearly improvement in the style and value of the buildings that are being erected for homes. Men of capital of the North and West have become awakened to its advantages for winter residences, and valuable lots are being purchased and costly houses, beautiful in design and finish, are being erected, and beautiful homes, the abodes of wealth and culture are multiplying. Seabreeze (City Beautiful) and Goodall are settlements on the Ocean side of the peninsula across the Halifax River from Daytona.

At the foot of Ocean Boulevard, Seabreeze, a pier reaches 600 feet across the beach into the swelling surf of the ocean. This pier is a favorite resort of those who delight in the sport of fishing. The surf here abounds in trout, pompano, yellowtail, cavale, whiting, drum, sheephead and many other varieties of edible fish. During the fall season the famous sea bass affords royal sport, and it has been no uncommon occurrence to land a thousand pounds of this gamey fish in an afternoon. Individuals of them ranging from fifteen to thirty-five pounds in weight. Not only does the ocean offer this splendid sport but the Halifax River, only half a mile back of the ocean, is equally famous for its fine fishing, and the varieties that abound in the ocean are present in the river. Hunting and fishing good. Experienced guides and dogs may be had at reasonable prices.
